

Our telephone, paid for by us, is for our use and not for solicitation by businesses and others. These calls waste our time, often create a negative experience at the dinner hour or interrupt family time. We have long felt we have the right not to be contacted by business or charitable organizations unless we ask them in through our own initiative - not theirs. The past months have been a blessing of silence during the evening hours with only calls from friends and family and we want to keep it that way. (Although we would like to have given you our e-mail address, since this is a public filing, we will omit its so as not to contribute to more spam and junk on our computer).
